Do you realize that you'll be alive one billion years from now? The question is, "Where will you be?" This book reveals what others aren't telling you. It's knowledge for eternity! You will learn from the most ancient and still best selling spiritual manuscript in human history. What does it actually say and how can you be certain about where you will spend eternity? Get ready to have your eyes opened to things you've perhaps never heard before. This will empower you to make your own informed spiritual decisions. It will change your life and your eternity! Would you like to serve openheartedly, but aren't quite sure what is the next right step to take? Do you struggle to forgive other people and let go of burdens that are weighing you down? You are just the woman God is calling to make His love known. It is easy to do when you have the tools and encouragement you need. Now is the time to Arise and begin building the Kingdom of God, one act of love at a time. Arise is for the woman who loves Jesus with all her heart, but finds it difficult, at times, to love the person right in front of her. Perfect for individuals or small groups, each chapter is filled with personal stories, inspiration from the saints, Scripture, and questions for reflection along with practical ideas for incorporating your faith into your everyday life. In the pages of Arise, Katie will share what it looks like to love regardless of what is on your calendar. Women in both the Old and New Testament have much to teach us about the ins and outs of loving with all of our hearts and it begins when we Arise. Start on your 8-week journey through Scripture where you will discover how to walk away from fear and build the Kingdom of God one act of love at a time. 'Building God's Kingdom' explores the Christian Reconstructionist movement as an influence in American conservative Protestantism. Christian Reconstruction, which developed out of the work of R. J. Rushdoony in the mid-twentieth century, has broadly and subtly shaped conservative American Protestantism, especially its politicised versions, known as the religious right or the Christian right. Reconstructionists embrace a traditional Reformed notion of the Unity of Scripture to argue that all life should be brought under the authority of biblical law as contained in the Old and New Testaments. Identifying success or failure in "Building God's Kingdom" can be challenging, considering the various circumstances and contexts in which one may find himself. The American Church is somewhat divided on what success looks like in this pursuit, and therefore people in ministry can feel discouraged or unaffirmed when their measure of success does not hold up to others' views of perceived ministry success. The purpose of this project is to shed light on the various measures of success in building God's Kingdom and enable church leaders to feel justified and affirmed in their approach. The research for this project will be conducted through electronic surveys with leaders from churches throughout North America in varied circumstances. This project will help ministry leaders have a better understanding of how their part of the building of God's Kingdom is making an impact by redefining what success looks like in their particular culture and setting. For the last several decades, at the far fringes of American evangelical Christianity has stood an intellectual movement known as Christian Reconstruction. The proponents of this movement embrace a radical position: that all of life should be brought under the authority of biblical law as it is contained in both the Old and New Testaments. They challenge the legitimacy of democracy, argue that slavery is biblically justifiable, and support the death penalty for all manner of "crimes" described in the Bible including homosexuality, adultery, and Sabbath-breaking. But, as Julie Ingersoll shows in this fascinating new book, this "Biblical Worldview" shapes their views not only on political issues, but on everything from private property and economic policy to history and literature. Holding that the Bible provides a coherent, internally consistent, and all-encompassing worldview, they seek to remake the entirety of society--church, state, family, economy--along biblical lines. Tracing the movement from its mid-twentieth-century origins in the writings of theologian and philosopher R.J. Rushdoony to its present-day sites of influence, including the Christian Home School movement, advocacy for the teaching of creationism, and the development and rise of the Tea Party, Ingersoll illustrates how Reconstructionists have broadly and subtly shaped conservative American Protestantism over the course of the late-twentieth and early-twenty-first centuries. Drawing on interviews with Reconstructionists themselves as well as extensive research in Reconstructionist publications, Building God's Kingdom offers the most complete and balanced portrait to date of this enigmatic segment of the Christian Right. How can a person live faith seriously in our time? Bishop Javier Echevarria takes up key questions of faith, God's existence, and the many ways people find their path to God. While focusing on the most important aspects of faith life, he also addresses the causes of the loneliness and isolation that afflict so many people today. Particularly insightful are his reflections on suffering. Bishop Echevarria was born in Madrid, Spain in 1932. He worked closely with St. Josemaría Escrivá, the founder of Opus Dei, from 1953 until his death in 1975. Following the death of Bishop Alvaro del Portillo in 1994, he was elected Prelate of Opus Dei and in the following year ordained bishop by Pope John Paul II. Bishop Echevarria has lived in Rome during the pontificates of six popes as well as during the Second Vatican Council. This experience, along with his many pastoral visits on six continents, gives him a broad knowledge of the situation of present-day believers and the challenges facing the Church throughout the world. He is the author of eight books. The Blueprint A blueprint is a guide for making something. It is a design or pattern that can be followed. When we sit down to build something, we normally draw up a blueprint and then follow the design carefully. A blueprint helps you determine what to do. In this manual "The House of God" our goal is to discover God's blueprint for local churches and local communities of believers. We also share practical ways to build local churches according to God's blueprint. Our goal is not to present one set of "methods" and "techniques", but rather discover what God wants the local church to be. Each one of us will have to make our own journey with God as we develop our local congregations according to God's blueprint. Each one of us will have to discover our own expression of this blueprint in our local communities. Since God is a creative God, He has many ways and many expressions of His blueprint. The one common denominator is that we are all pursuing the same blueprint for each local church. The blueprint describes God's design. It is God's original intent. It highlights main characteristics. It describes key features. It points to important focus areas. When we follow His blueprint, we know we are moving in the right direction and will eventually arrive at the right destination for our local churches. Your Ministry And God's Blueprint Regardless of what your ministry is inside or in relation to the local church, it is important that what you do is aligned to God's blueprint for His people. As a pastor or senior pastor your responsibility is to ensure that the local church is growing and developing in all dimensions according to God's blueprint. As an itinerant evangelist, teacher, prophet, or apostle, whenever you minister to a congregation, your goal is to help impart and increase the congregation in some way according to God's design for the local church. Whether you serve as a youth pastor, worship leader, in children's church, in women's ministry, in men's ministry, or in small groups, you are working toward establishing God's blueprint in the lives of His people in that local church. Follow God's design closely and you will not go wrong! God called him to be the "next man up," but how do you follow a man like Moses? The book of Joshua shows us how God equips ordinary people to do extraordinary things for Him. We can win our battles because the Lord fights them for us. God never intended for us to live our lives in fear of the future. He wants us to live in victory because Christ has overcome the world. If you're facing an impossible situation, this book is for you. If you're tired of the status quo, this book is for you. If you're ready to seize the day for God, this book is for you. The faith that enabled Joshua to build the future God's way can be our faith too. If you need a fresh start, keep walking and keep believing because when you walk with God, the best is always yet to come. More and more pulpits are occupied by motivational speakers rather than preachers. Church congregations are not being given a comprehensive, biblical understanding of the faith. Drawing on his own experience as a pastor in Zambia, Conrad Mbewe tackles issues such as the content of pastoral preaching, how pastoral preaching relates to church life, finding the time to prepare pastoral sermons, and dealing with discouragement. Throughout the book, it is clear that the author's conviction is to see preachers grow strong churches, to build a people for God. Diggitt worries that stopping to help a lost squirrel will put the construction team behind schedule. This book show us that God's purpose is His building in His chosen place of oneness. It then shows us the revelation of the building of the church in Genesis and in the writings of Peter, Paul, and John. Of all the characters in the Bible, it is David who is most human. His life is lived on the "rough-edged actuality" of real life, and his relationship with God is an energetic one. Through the passions, the trials, and the lyrical poetry of this beloved figure, we gain powerful insights into the role of God in our own lives. In this inspirational volume, Professor Eugene H. Peterson, translator of The Message, uses stories from David's epic life as vivid lessons in everyday faith and spirituality. Exploring David's experiences of friendship, grief, love, sin, and suffering, as well as sanctuary, beauty, and wilderness, he reawakens us to the enduring truths behind these beloved stories. This work represents the rediscovery of an ancient pattern that God has given to his people in order to build His Kingdom on earth. This pattern can be found throughout the Bible. The scripture shows that the Hebrew writers of Old and New Testaments thought, wrote, and lived according to this pattern. We can see that they considered this pattern as foundational to planting, building and living out God's Kingdom here on Earth. As we recognize the pattern of the Kingdom and begin to understand its elements, we can begin to use it to structure every effort pertaining to the Kingdom of God. Indeed, the scripture urges us: "Build everything according to the Pattern that I (God) have shown you." Once recognized as God's intended pattern of the Kingdom, this pattern is applicable and necessary to every part of Godly worship, service and life today. In fact, as we implement our ministry, work and life according to God's plan, we begin to see that God's plan is the only way to build His Kingdom in the Earth. Building Capacity demonstrates that God's best plan and life's best success for anyone depends on one's capacity to create it. It shows that much depends on us (our capacity) and not on God - God can do no more and no less than the capacity we build. Creating capacity for life and success is both a personal responsibility and a part of God's immutable design. p.p1 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; text-align: justify; font: 11.0px 'Antonio Light'} p.p2 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; text-align: justify; font: 11.0px Antonio; min-height: 16.0px} p.p3 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; text-align: center; font: 11.0px Antonio} p.p4 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; text-align: justify; font: 11.0px 'Antonio Light'; min-height: 16.0px} span.s1 {font: 11.0px Antonio} Many subscribe to an erroneous concept of the sovereignty of God, and as a result of this misconception, believe that their fate in life ultimately depends on God or some other higher power calling the shots - that everything in this life is "as is" because God has willed it so. What they fail to see is that God has placed all responsibility for life and success squarely on the shoulders of mankind, and that this assigned responsibility is a part of His divine plan. He designed life for us to call the shots, and for us to determine the outcome of our lives in this world. God is not the one running planet earth, man is. The condition of the world today is a direct cause of man's oversight of its affairs, and God can only get involved to the extent we let Him. p.p1 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; text-align: justify; font: 11.0px 'Antonio Light'} span.s1 {font: 11.0px Antonio} Sino Agueze is the Lead Pastor of Kingdom City Churches - a Church modeled to reach the Next Generation for Jesus. Building Blocks takes the greatest commandment and uses it as the cornerstone in building a spiritual foundation to help notice God's presence in our everyday lives. Part 1 begins by unpacking the greatest commandment into six essential parts: God, the self, our neighbor, our head, our heart, and our hands. The opening chapters answer common questions about spirituality and its relationship with religion. Part 2 presents a variety of spiritual practices and exercises using our head, heart, and hands as building blocks to nurture our spiritual lives as we love God, the self, and our neighbors. Some of these practices may be new while others may be familiar but reframed in a new way. Personal stories by everyday people illustrate many of these exercises. Spiritual Building Blocks was written for individuals or small groups interested in deepening their spiritual lives. Tony Evans is one of the most influential church leaders of our time and has been studying and preaching the Gospel for over 50 years. He is senior pastor of Oak Cliff Bible Fellowship in Dallas, TX and founder of The Urban Alternative, a ministry which promotes a kingdom agenda philosophy designed to enable people to live all of life underneath the comprehensive rule of God. The Tony Evans Bible Commentary includes an introduction to each Bible book followed by passage-by-passage exposition of the entire Bible by Dr. Tony Evans. In addition, there is a special front matter section with introductory resources. The insights in this commentary will help explain God's Word in a fresh way. Applying these truths will empower readers to have transformed lives that then transfer the values of the kingdom of God to others. The Tony Evans Bible Commentary features the highly readable, highly reliable text of the Christian Standard Bible® (CSB). The CSB stays as literal as possible to the Bible's original meaning without sacrificing clarity, making it easier to engage with Scripture's life-changing message and to share it with others. This 12 week Bible Study is a part of the Thin Within Rebuilding God's Temple Workbook series Sometimes going radical means getting to the root. Sometimes it means pulling something up by the roots. What is it that is keeping you from doing what God wants you to do? There are many books about how to do church "right." There are programs for every imaginable thing you might want to improve in your church. There are at least as many measures by which you can determine whether your church is successful. Ditch the Building ditches that approach and asks you to look at what God is calling you to do, and how ingrained church structures are keeping you from actually following that call. Nick May doesn't claim to know what you're supposed to be doing, or even what's stopping you. What he does know from the experience of growing up in church, working in a megachurch and then pastoring a church plant, is that many of you are precisely at that point. You likely have at least the glimmering of a vision of what you believe God is calling you to do. When it comes time to start doing it, however, you find things in your way. It may be things in your own life or things in your church. Ingrained structures may be your physical building. They may be your order of worship. They may be found in your Christian education department where you are implementing innovative ideas to prepare your children and youth to live in the 90s--1890s. We often hear that God hasn't changed. This is supposed to tell us that we don't have to change either. But people and culture do change, the challenges change. We have to find God's way of responding and building God's people. If you want to live out your life comfortably, don't buy this book. If you think the church today is just fine, don't buy this book. But if you hear the call to follow wherever God leads, no matter how radical that makes you seem, then buy and read this book. We're not telling you that this book will change your life. We're hoping that after reading it, you will be empowered to let God change your life, your ministry, your church, and our world. The author analyzes Malagasy influence on the 19th century Norwegian mission in highland Madagascar. She reveals the complex dynamics of mission encounters. Thank You, dear God, for blessing me With food, a home, and a family. And now, O Lord, I ask if You might, Help me be honest and do what is right. Following the success of the bestselling God's Wisdom for Little Girls, now the wonderful teachings of Proverbs come to life for young boys, age 4-7, too! In God's Wisdom for Little Boys memorable rhymes by Jim and Elizabeth George play alongside watercolors by Judy Luenebrink for a charming presentation of truths to live by. With each turn of the page, parents and their children discover that God's little boy is prayerful thankful responsible kind brave truthful ...and so much more! Imparting God's wisdom to sons, grandsons, and any young boy today will help them become men of God tomorrow. This charming book is a gift that will make an eternal impression on every special boy in your life. It began over 30 years ago as an informal weekly Bible study group for teenagers that met in a private home. But the group eventually morphed into a multi-million dollar therapeutic boarding school for at-risk teenagers run by Sophie and Gino Barberetti and the two hundred staff members they hired throughout the years. God was the school's main focus as staff members worked together to help hundreds of young people overcome their addictions, their anger, and their pain. Broken families were mended. It thrived for many years and saved numerous lives. Then our country began going through several changes, and in time those changes affected the school. A nationwide recession crushed everyone and enrollment dropped dramatically. Government agencies eventually impacted the overall mission of the school, and God was slowly removed. The spiritual level of the school deteriorated, and with that went the morale of the staff members. The end, although inevitable, came as a shock nonetheless. This is Conspiracy or Faith, I call this one, the Special Edition, the code name for this work is; Building the God kind of House. Why would I call it such a thing? Well, I have been a carpenter since I was 12 years old, and today, I still do a lot of that kind of work, but, as you can see, there are a lot of things that I do. This book is based on the principles of what it takes to actually build a real house, then, on the flip side, it talks about the format of building your Faith, based on the design of building the house. Life is filled with chaos, misconceptions, and deception. In fact, the Bible tells us that, the devil has deceived the entire world, does that include you and me? Of course it does, our job is to power through to get back to where the Lord wanted us. Conspiracy or Faith started out as a book directed towards the life and death and the resurrection of Jesus Christ, and it has expanded to what you now see, will I ever do a commentary? no, that I can point blank tell you, no, That is one book, that I personally will not be doing. To Build the God kind of House, or not to build it, is that a real quest to a question? Actually, it is a desire placed within us by the Holy Spirit, what you thought you understood about life, is actually, a stepping stone to what you can learn, information is endless, conspiracy means that it is up to you whether you want to trust the information, Faith says, the information came from a good source, but yet still the same, no one but you, can make you want to believe it, and then take it as your own. have you ever driven a car down the road and thought that you were going the wrong way, then, you had to rethink where it was you were going, to figure out the right route you had to be on? truth works the same way, we have taken the lies from the wickedness of the principalities and the rulers of darkness, and we have made them truth, but, in the end, the lies, are still lies, because to God, who does not change, the truth stands forever. So then, faith, is that thing that can bring us before the Lord, with a heart made unto Thanksgiving, what does that mean? there are things that God wants to give to us, but without Faith, those things don't get to us, they go into a store house for somebody later on in our blood line. It is impossible to please God without faith, so why come before Him with a heart and spirit of doubt? God wants to pour out on you, He wants you soaked with His everything, that is why Jesus said, take my yoke about you, for my yoke is easy, taking on the yoke of this world brings on self destruction. reading this book is not about you going out there buying land, and trying to build a house, it is about self application, to build up your Faith in not only Jesus Christ, but in the Holy Spirit, God the Father, and the Kingdom of God. Have you ever had someone peer into your innermost being? Have you ever made eye contact with someone and realized that they really saw you? I recently had that experience. I greeted someone and could not help but notice how intently she stared at me. She smiled and held her keen eye contact. When prompted, she said she could tell that I have been with God. I am in the meantime—the time or season before the manifestation of God's promise. It is the period of time when we wait for the promises of His Word to come to pass. I simply love how that word promise is defined. It is a declaration that one will do something specific. It is an indication of future success. God has given me His word that He will commit himself to specifically bless me, and He has given it to you as well. If you and I are to live the lives God promised us according to Jeremiah 29:11, we must hold on to His Word. This requires patient action. Kingdom-building in this meantime is just that—a state of actively waiting for God's promises. God has given me specific instructions and opportunities for the meantime, just as He undoubtedly has given you. During this time, it is imperative that we attune our ears to His voice and heed His instructions. Kingdom Building in the Meantime presents lessons I have learned and tools I have used during my meantime season to help you keep, protect, and grow the seeds of God's promises in your personal meantime. When Tipper tells a small lie, he ends up stranded along the road by himself.

(6 sessions) "[White's] judicious blend of archaeological remains, textual evidence, religious philosophies, and Roman social history... An enthusiastic, well-written presentation measured with erudition and sound research."-- Classical World. Using the Book of Nehemiah, popular author and pastor Jacob Armstrong explores the physical and spiritual renovation experienced by the nation of Judah. Nehemiah knew that his plan for renovating the wall and gates of Jerusalem would be hard work. But equally hard would be the spiritual renovation of the Jewish people as they returned to their homeland.
